

'Rta' is a word which is found within the ancient language of Sanskrit and can be seen to be at least 6000 years old as its mentioned over 450 times within the 'Rig Veda' hence its impotance within the ancient Vedic culture of India.

Rig Veda describes how 'Rta' whose meaning is 'righteousness' and 'Satya' whose meaning is 'truth' are born from the fires of austerity and how the god of the sun 'Surya' travels upon the two wheels of 'Rta' and 'Satya'.

'Rta' whose meaning is 'truth' and 'righteousness' enters the ancient lands of Iran where 'Rta' becomes 'Arta' meaning 'truth' and 'righteousness' and some 2500 years ago this could be seen within the names of Kings and Queens and warriors throughout this Aryan kingdom.

'Artastuna' was the wife of 'Darius the great' and daughter of 'Cyrus the great' a name which possesses 'Rta' whose meaning is 'truth' and this combines with 'Stuna' a word within Sanskrit meaning 'pillar' as in one who is a pillar (stuna) of truth (rta).

'Artaxerxes' was the grandson of 'Cyrus the great' and ruled the Achaemenid empire for some 40 years and his name is formed of 'Rta' meaning 'truth' which then combines with 'Ksi' and 'Ksa' roots within Sanskrit meaning to 'rule' as in one who rules (ksi) in truth (rta).

'Artaphernes' was a great warrior and brother of 'Darius the great' whose name is formed of 'Rta' meaning 'righteousness' which then combines with 'Varna' a word within Sanskrit whose meaning is 'quality' as in one who possesses the qualities (varnas) of truth (varna).

'Rta' is constructed from the verbal root 'R' which is pronounced 'Ri' and whose meaning is that which 'goes' that which 'moves' that which is in 'motion' that which 'rises' an expression of the cosmic law in harmony as each part has its proper place which runs smoothly for the welfare of the whole.

'Rta' is seen within epithets to the gods as in 'one who is born of rta' and 'one who possesses rta' and 'one who grows according to rta' and as it is the source of their power they are controlled by 'Rta' as they are duty bound to adhere to the cosmic laws known as 'Rta'.

'Rta' was observed amongst the Ksatriya race as warriors could only fight warriors, no unarmed warrior could be attacked nor could one fleeing the battlefield be killed and such principles were observed far and wide as seen within the Aryan lands of Iran where 'Rta' meaning 'truth' becomes 'Arta' meaning 'truth' and some 2500 years ago this formed many of their names.

"The Bactrian (Persian) is so greatly related to the old Indian language and in particular that of the Vedas that without exaggeration it can be called a dialect thereof". Professor H. Kern -
About the word Zarathustra.

"Slowly and gradually it dawned upon them that the language of the Gatha and Zendavesta has very great kinship with the Sanskrit language. When the grammar of Panini, Katyayana and Patanjali was applied then the Gathas and Zendavesta came to be understood by the Westerners. The lesson from this amazing fact is clear that once the Iranians of the Gatha and Zendavesta and the Indo-Aryans of the Vedas formed one single race, speaking language akin to Sanskrit." - A Comparative Study of Religions By Y. Masih

"I am Darius the great King, King of Kings, King of many countries and many people, the King of this expansive land. The son of Archaemenid, the son of a Persian, Aryan from the Aryan race".
