

This interview is a 'wakeup call' from the BBC News Desk. We are living in the material world where greed, selfishness and ruthlessness rules, besides Krishna of course. It is a frank and candid talk with an inside trader who predicts the collapse of the Euro currency zone within less than 12 months and who explains that Goldman Sachs 'rules' the world, besides Krishna of course. He further explains how some, or potentially anyone, can make a lot of money out of this. Of course the collapse of the financial system is nothing new to us. It will not stop here either, it's just the beginning, because it is not possible to build a society or even a so called civilisation on material values. It cannot last. Besides this it is a great opportunity for chanting Hare Krishna and for making it available to everyone.

This video has unfortunately been taken off YouTube ...